

Today's Featured Activity: Bubbles!

Can you say bubbles without smiling? I know I can't! This time of year, what activity is better than blowing bubbles and chasing after them? With supplies you likely have around your house, you can make a variety of wands, blowers, and art with homemade bubble solution.

- While dish soap and water mixed together will provide you with a decent amount of bubble fun, the addition of sugar can make these bubbles more stable. If you have some winter gloves, you'll even be able to catch them in your hands! Use this recipe here, for great results! If you have corn syrup at home, this recipe is good for making giant bubbles!
- If you can't seem to find any of last year's bubble wands, why not try making some? When you're out on a walk collect some sticks from the ground to make these stick wands.
- If you'd like to make giant bubbles, try these wands, using either sticks and strings or straws!

- Have you ever tried to make differently-shaped bubbles? Do different shaped bubble wands make a difference? Ever made a square bubble? Learn how on this website!
- Using an old water bottle and sock, you can make bubble snakes!
- Have you ever tried bubble painting? You will definitely want to do this activity outside and with old clothes on!

Did you do this activity? Post a photo on Instagram and tag @clctrust or use #clctrust.

Have suggestions for activities you'd like to see? Send us an email!

Be sure to check out our blog: The Outside Story!

Columbia Land Conservancy | clctrust.org

