School Districts

Each town in Columbia County was divided into districts in the 1800s. Ideally, each district had a one room schoolhouse, close enough for children to travel to on foot or by horse. As the height of its population, Gallatin had five schools in the town. In the case of joint districts (marked on the map with a J) schoolhouses were located in the adjacent town. The last schoolhouse closed in 1955.

Gallatin Schoolhouses
A) Weaver Schoolhouse, Dist No. 9
B) Lasher Schoolhouse, Dist No. 2
C) Suydam Schoolhouse, Dist No. 6
D) Duntz Schoolhouse, Dist No. 4
E) Snyderville Schoolhouse, Dist No. 1

Schoolhouse a J.)  schoolhouses were located in the adjacent town. The last town. In the case of joint districts (marked on the map with the height of its population, Gallatin had five schools in the close enough for children to travel to on foot or by horse. At the 1800s. Ideally, each district had a one room schoolhouse, close enough for children to travel to on foot or by horse. As the height of its population, Gallatin had five schools in the town. In the case of joint districts (marked on the map with a J) schoolhouses were located in the adjacent town. The last schoolhouse closed in 1955.